TEN CENTS A WEEK

CONSPIRACY TESTIMONY INTRODUCED BY STATE

Witness Stated That When Shots Were Fired Sharp Said it Was Cooper Shooting Carmack.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 18.—Marked by bitter quarrels between attorneys and by new and startling testimony, the second day of the Cooper-Sharpe trial for the murder of former Senator Carmack closed yesterday with the State highly elated and the defense visibly perturbed.

The tension between the factions has tightened. This is indicated in the court room by bitter passages between opposing counsel and outside by more bitter talk by partisans. While it was clearly a field day for the prosecution it must be remembered that the testimony was given by the State's witnesses only, and that the defense is yet to be heard from.

There were three star witnesses, and all of them women. Miss Mary Skeffington, the State librarian and a young woman of excellent position, socially, was the first. She told how on the day of the murder she left the State library and walked down Seventh avenue. When within 200 feet of the scene of the shooting she met John Sharpe, one of the defendants, whom she had known for ten or twelve years. Just as she greeted him she heard three shots, and asked Sharpe what it meant. Without turning around to learn, she says, Sharpe replied:

"That's Duncan Cooper shooting Senator Carmack."

Woman Trembles on the Stand.

By the second witness, Miss Daisy Lee, the State laid the foundation upon which it will base its contention that the slaying of Carmack was the result of a conspiracy. Miss Lee is a stenographer in the office of James Bradford, one of the attorneys for the defense. Robin Cooper had his office with Bradford's law firm.

Miss Lee, trembling with fright and almost sick with worry, told how, on the morning of Nov. 9, the day of the tragedy, when she arrived at the office, she found Col. Cooper already there in conference with his son. She heard the Colonel denounce Carmack for using his (Cooper's) name and declare he had a right to protect himself.

Later she heard Col. Cooper apply to him (Carmack) epithets so vile that she cried when ordered to repeat them. The court permitted her to write them and when they were read she covered her face with her hands.

Miss Lee then told how at 3 p. m.

there began a conference in Bradford's office between the two Coopers, Bradford and Adjutant-General Tulley Brown. This conference lasted until 4 p. m., when it broke up, and the Coopers left together. She said that there was a look of worry and trouble on the boy's face that she had never seen there before.

Miss Lee's duty among other things was to answer the telephone. There are desk extensions into the private offices of the members of the firm. It was her custom to answer the telephone and call by an electric button such members of the firm as were wanted. A half an hour after the Coopers left the office, the telephone rang and as usual Miss Lee answered it. She heard a voice say: "Is that you, Jim?" and heard Attorney Bradford say, "yes."

She hung up her receiver, but not before she recognized the voice as that of Col. Cooper. A moment later she heard Bradford say over the telephone:

"And did Robin kill him?"

"Well, I'll be right up there."

The third star witness was Miss Donnie Baxter, a maid in the service of Mrs. Lucius Burch, a daughter of Col. Cooper, with whom he made his home. The witness heard Col. Cooper come into the Burch home about noon the day of the tragedy and heard him tell Mrs. Burch something that greatly excited the young woman. She heard Mrs. Burch say:

"He will kill you, papa," and the father's reply, "he is as liable to be killed as I am." Whatever followed, caused Mrs. Burch to become hysterical.

The defense made little effort to cross-examine these witnesses except in a most perfunctory manner, and court adjourned with the testimony of the State's witnesses practically unassailed.

The State's first witness was W. J. Smith, an insurance agent who corroborated the testimony of Hugh Morton that John Sharpe had cursed Carmack just before the Senatorial contest in 1905.

Governor Patterson Mentioned.

On cross-examination, Smith was asked if this remark "that the country would be better off if Carmack were dead and in hell twenty years ago" had not been made before Governor Patterson was "born as a politician."

AN EXTRA SESSION CONGRESS MARCH 15

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The extra session of Congress will be convened on March 15. This date was definitely settled yesterday.

Formal announcement of the date was made by Republican Floor Leader Payne, for the information of the House. He said he had been authorized by Mr. Taft to state that the special session of the Sixty-first Congress would be called to convene on March 15th.

"Well," said Smith, "he (Patterson) was just beginning to bob up."

The State objected to any reference to Governor Patterson and was sustained.

The next witness was L. A. Welch, a barber at the Tulane Hotel, who shaved John D. Sharpe a few days before the election. Sharpe was reading Carmack's paper—the editorial page—and said:

"The ——— ought to be in hell," referring to Carmack.

The defense attacked Welch with vigor and forced him to make some contradictions. As a result a row between counsel was narrowly averted. "Untruth," "falsification," and other terms were hurled back and forth. General Garner was on his feet for the State and Generals Washington and Meek for the defense, all talking at once. Judge Hart broke into the debate sharply with the assertion that any more personalities would bring painful results to those who indulged in them.

Miss Mary Skeffington was called next and after telling of the remark of John D. Sharp that "it is Col. Duncan Cooper shooting Senator Carmack" said that Sharpe was standing with his back to the shooting.

"What next?"

"He turned around and walked back with me to the scene of the shooting. I said, 'Oh Mr. Sharpe, you are not jesting are you?' and he said: 'No, Miss Skeffington, I am not.' I saw four figures gathered and others came. Mr. Sharpe walked over to the group, stood a minute and then rejoined me. I said: 'Mr. Sharpe, is he dead?' His reply was, 'He is.' Then I was sick and frightened and hurried away." She did not recognize Col. Cooper and Robin Cooper.

"Did Sharpe turn around to see who was doing the shooting after you heard the shots and before you asked him who was shooting?"

"No, sir, he did not. He was walking away from the scene of the shooting."

Sharpe Had Abused Carmack.

Miss Skeffington was cross-examined very briefly, the defense asking only if Sharpe might not have turned and seen the shooting without the witness seeing him. The young woman was quite sure that he could not as she had not taken her eyes from him as the shots were fired.

Several witnesses testified as to the location of the body when found, the nature of the wound, etc.

Finds Revolver Scabbard.

After Miss Lee and Miss Baxter had given their testimony, Jones, the undertaker, was recalled by the defense to tell what was in the Senator's pockets. He was asked to search the overcoat pocket and he did so, finding a rubber shield or scabbard for the barrel of a revolver. He said that he searched the pockets the day of the killing and found only a magazine and a paper.

The State then asked:

"Was that scabbard in the pocket when you got the body?"

"It was not."

"How did it get there?"

"I have no idea."

"Where were these clothes?"

"In a wardrobe in the undertaking rooms."

The State asked at this point that court adjourn until today, as the prosecution's next witness was ill, but would be on hand today. The request was complied with and the session closed.

CHAUTAUQUA THURSDAY WAS FULL OF INTEREST

Attendance Was Good at All Sessions---Robley Male Quartette in Evening---Today's Program.

BY F. M. PREWITT

Thursday was a typical Florida day, the atmospheric conditions being such as to make it delightful, hence many attended the sessions of the Florida Winter Chautauqua at the Tabernacle. Those who have witnessed the exercises so far appreciate more and more the high class of attractions which the management has provided, and each day seems to grow better. The program is the best possible to secure, and it is thought that the present session will prove the most successful yet held in Gainesville.

The day's program opened with the Biblical hour in the morning at 9:30 o'clock under direction of Dr. D. W. Howell, and those present were deeply interested in the work. Dr. Howell is a Bible scholar in every sense the word implies and his remarks and thoughts upon the teachings of the Book are highly interesting and instructive. There is no admission charged for the Bible study hour, and all are extended a most cordial invitation to participate in these services.

At 10:30 a. m. Dr. Carolyn Geisel gave the second of a series of lectures and demonstrations in the School of Health and Domestic Science. "Fletcherization and Its Results" was the subject of this lecture, and the time allotted to her was consumed in giving a talk of a very instructive nature on the value of proper living. This lady never fails to interest her hearers, and many attend the morning session to receive the benefits which may be derived from her teachings. Dr. Geisel stands without a rival in America in her line of work, which has become a leading feature of all well-ordered Chautauquas.

The lessons and demonstrations in cooking by Mrs. Emmons were especially of interest to the ladies. Her work Thursday was devoted to a demonstration on Rice, Macaroni, Cuts and Desserts. Much information of a helpful nature may be gained by attending this department.

Mr. Wallace Bruce-Amsbury delivered his first lecture in the afternoon, beginning at 3:30 o'clock, and had the audience with him from the start. Mr. Bruce-Amsbury is from Chicago, and is one of the best-known readers and cleverest monologists on the platform. He is particularly pleasing in his manner of speech, and his lecture on "Some American Writers in Prose and Verse" was greatly enjoyed. He will appear again this afternoon.

The group of songs rendered by Mrs. Bruce-Amsbury was enthusiastically received by the audience. The regret was expressed by many that the work of Mrs. Amsbury had to be confined to two afternoon programs. Those who failed to hear her will miss one of the rarest opportunities that has come to music lovers of Gainesville. She will appear this afternoon at 3:30.

"The Chautauqua Story," by Dr. Howell at 5 p. m., was listened to closely. Being directly connected with the Chautauqua movement, Dr. Howell's lectures are always full of interest, furnishing much information of the greatest movement of the age for purer and better amusements.

The first appearance of the Robley Male Quartette in the evening was greeted by a large audience. Chautauqua-goers anticipated a grand treat on this occasion and they were not disappointed. The selections by the quartette were splendid, the readings and impersonations by Mr. Bayard T. Robley all that could be wished for. These gentlemen are also on the program for tonight.

The quartette was followed by wonderful moving pictures and illustrated songs by Prof. Goss and Miss Bartell, bringing to a close a most successful day's exercises.

The management announces that the price of the daily tickets to the Chautauqua will be 35 cents. These tickets are transferable and are good for all three entertainments, nights included, with the exception of the days designated as "Governor Glenn Day" (Feb. 24.) and "Mrs. Gen. Pickett Day" (Feb. 26), upon which occasions the admission will be 75 cents each day to all attractions.

Today's Program.

9:30 a. m.—Biblical Hour, Dr. D. W. Howell.

10:30 a. m.—School of Health and Domestic Science. "The Pathology of the Smoke Nuisance," Dr. Geisel. Cooking School; "Food Salts," Mrs. Emmons. An important lesson on the source and function of the inorganic mineral salts. Demonstration: Methods of Preparing Fruits and Vegetables.

3:00 p. m.—Musical Prelude, Robley Male Quartette.

3:30 p. m.—Lecture-Recital: "Ballads of Bourbonnais," Mr. Wallace Bruce Amsbury, presenting his own poem. Solos, Mrs. Louise Morgan-Amsbury. 5:00 p. m.—C. L. S. C. Round Table. "Books, what are they and what shall we do with them?" Dr. D. W. Howell.

8:00 p. m.—Grand Concert, Robley Male Quartette. Readings and Impersonations, Bayard T. Robley, followed by illustrated songs and Moving Pictures, W. Robert Goss and Miss M. J. Bartell.

Five-Year-Old Girl Meets Instant Death

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Feb. 18.—Iona Jones, a five-year-old negro girl, was shot and instantly killed at 9:30 o'clock this morning by Levi Edwards, a negro man 23 years old. The shooting occurred at the home of the child's grandmother, Barbara Phenix, at Twenty-third and Iona streets.

From the facts as told to the authorities, it is believed that the shot was accidentally fired. Edwards did not leave the house, in which he has been a boarder for several months, but remained until the officers arrived after the police headquarters had been notified. He was placed under arrest, but will likely be discharged after the coroner's inquest, which is set for Saturday morning.

Edwards was preparing to send the day shooting and the little girl, like all of her age, was watching him take the gun from a closet. In some manner the shot gun, a single-barreled weapon, of an old pattern, was discharged by accident and the contents struck the child in the right shoulder and neck.

The shot and wadding tore an awful wound and caused almost immediate death. Only one or two feeble cries came from the little girl as she sank to the floor. Edwards picked her up and carried her to a bed, but life was extinct within a few seconds.

The police were notified and the officers hastened to the scene. Edwards made no attempt to escape, but quietly submitted to arrest. He is being held at the police station to await the action of the coroner's jury.

House Takes Up Pro- hibition Amendment

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Liquor legislation was the subject of consideration in the house late yesterday. When the penal code bill was taken up, Representative Humphreys offered an amendment agreed upon by House leaders to regulate interstate shipment of intoxicating liquor.

The amendment, which is the Knox bill that passed the Senate, forbids the transportation of liquors in interstate commerce unless it is consigned to bona fide consignees, and unless the package is labelled plainly with the name of the consignee, and the exact character of the contents is shown. The amendment prohibits shipments of liquor C. O. D. The amendment was adopted, 129 to 40.

Speaker Cannon took his place on the floor, and voted every time with the "temperance" forces.

AMUSEMENTS

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

New Baird Theatre.
Tuesday, February 23.—Gainesville Guards Minstrels, under direction of Chas. T. Fales.
Thursday, March 4.—Dandy Dixie Minstrels.

Electric Theatre.

You have no doubt often wished that you could see an artist at work modeling in clay the beautiful statuary that adorns our homes. Ross Crane, a noted artist, will show you how this is done at the Electric Theatre next Monday night, at which time he will appear for the benefit of the High School Lyceum.
The pictures being shown this week
are worthy of anyone's attention and should be seen. There are some startling effects shown nightly and each evening is attractive because entirely different pictures are exhibited.

The Lyceum Course.

The fifth number of the High School
Lyceum Course will be given at the Electric Theatre on the night of the 22nd. This entertainment will be given by Ross Crane and his company,
consisting of canvasses and crayons,
modeling board and clay and the piano,
to say nothing of the piano stool.

Having given one entertainment in Gainesville, Ross Crane needs no further advertisement here. His entertainment is generally pronounced
"The greatest, completest, most artistic one-man performance on the platform." It is to be regretted that this number comes in conflict with the Chautauqua, but it could not be arranged otherwise.

The Christine Giles Company is booked for March 9th; Lou J. Beauchamp, March 17th, and "Roney's Boys" some time in April.

The remaining four numbers of the course are worth much more than the price of a ticket to anyone who loves high-class entertainment. Nothing better has ever been to Gainesville than Ross Crane, The Christine Giles Company, Lou J. Beauchamp, or "Roney's Boys."

DOING A LARGE BUSINESS.

New Wholesale House Meeting With Remarkable Success.

The new wholesale grocery business of the Hartsfield Grocery Company has now opened up in full blast, and the business is far exceeding their expectations for the first few days.

They had scarcely opened the doors
before they discovered the fact that the Gainesville merchants would support them. The trade received from the local merchants has been something to feel proud over, and judging from the manner in which they are adding new customers every day, it will not be long before Jacksonville houses will feel the effect of the firm
very forcibly in this section.

Commencing next week the company will have a representative on the road and will then be in better condition to handle the business. Several carloads of goods are being unloaded every day and the scene in the large warehouse is especially interesting.

As will be seen by their advertisement elsewhere, this company are out for business, but solicit orders from the trade only, and parties doing business with them will find their dealings especially pleasant, either with the president, B. D. Hartsfield, or the secretary, A. B. Hartsfield, who constitute the inside force for the present, but which will be added to later as the demand warrants.

"Frauds Upon the Public"

is what some physicians have called patent medicines, and it is undoubtedly true that some are frauds and some are even worse, because they are injurious. On the other hand, there are many patent medicines such as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound,
and others which are of real worth,
and are recommended by physicians
of recognized standing.

Some article that is simply "in the way" at your house might, if advertised, be sold to someone who is anxiously looking for it.

Let a want ad. negotiate a trade
for you—of something you don't need for something you do.

A BAPTIST ELDER

Restored to Health by Vinol

"I was run down and weak from indigestion and general debility, also suffered from vertigo. I saw a cod liver preparation called Vinol advertised and decided to give it a trial, and the results were most gratifying. After taking two bottles I regained my strength and am now feeling unusually well." Henry Cunningham, Elder Baptist Church, Kingston, N. C.

Vinol is not a patent medicine—but a preparation composed of the medicinal elements of cods' livers, combined with a tonic iron and wine. Vinol creates a hearty appetite, tones up the organs
of digestion and makes rich, red blood.
In this natural manner, Vinol creates strength for the run-down, overworked and debilitated, and for delicate children and old people. For chronic coughs, colds and bronchitis
Vinol is unexcelled.

All such persons in this vicinity are asked to try Vinol on our offer to refund their money if it fails to give satisfaction.

SHOULD BE STOPPED.

Council Should Take Some Action
on Claying of Streets.

The attention of the street committee is again directed to the clay and sand being placed on what few rocked streets we have in the city. Numerous people have complained that it is a waste of time and money to repair the holes in this manner, especially where the work has heretofore been done with rock. Heavy travel is always apparent on the streets where this material is now being put down,
and in wet weather it will be a sight and "mess" to behold. If this class of material is to be used, place it in the outskirts of the city where traffic is not so heavy and where it will have some drainage, instead of adjacent to the square.

The rocked streets should be repaired with rock, even if only a very few of them get attention, in preference to place clay over an old rock foundation, which prevents the water from being drained off them, and many people contend that they are better off not fixed at all than in this manner.

C. R. Kluger, the jeweler, 1060 Virginia avenue, Indianapolis, Ind., writes:
"I was so weak from kidney trouble that I could hardly walk a hundred feet. Four bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy cleared my complexion, cured
my backache and the irregularities disappeared, and I can now attend to business every day, and recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy to all sufferers, as it cured me after the doctors and other remedies had failed." J. W.

INTEREST CENTERING ON HOME MINSTRELS

PROMINENT CITIZENS TO TAKE PART IN BENEFIT SHOW.

First Part Entirely New and Novel.
Home-Coming of United States
Naval Boys.

The Original Home Minstrels, which will be presented at The New Baird Theatre on next Tuesday evening for the benefit of the Guards, is attracting considerable attention around the streets and all interest seems to be centered that way.

Owing to the very prominent positions of some of the participants, the house will probably be the largest ever witnessed in Gainesville. Besides, Manager Fales says the bunch is a "live one" and to see just what these old gentlemen can do is a show within itself.

"Coming Robin Hood" will be among the musical numbers, also "The Automobile Boy," from the musical comedy,
"Piff, Poff, Pooh."

The first-part will be an entirely new and novel setting, a regular spectacular beauty—the home-coming of the U. S. naval boys from the voyage around the world.

The comedy after-part, "A Dollar for a Kiss," is guaranteed a laugh-producer, and the citizens generally will be informed of the entire caste and general program of the performance
in next Sunday's issue.

Six Nights "Go as You Please" Race.

How many tired fathers and mothers in this town enter this race every night carrying a baby? And they wonder what the matter is. Chances are the child is starving—worms are eating all of its food. Most children have worms—yours needn't. White's Cream Vermifuge will get rid of the worms and strengthen the child. Price 25 cents per bottle. Sold by W. M.
Johnson.

DESIRED DEATH IN PREFERENCE TO LIFE

USED STRYCHNINE TO RELIEVE HIMSELF OF HIS TROUBLES.

No Cause Could Be Learned of Man's Sudden Action to End His Own Life.

News was received in the city Thursday of the death by suicide of a man by the name of Henton, who lived near Trenton, in Levy county.

The information received here was to the effect that two brothers were living together in an out-of-the-way house. One of them had been sick for some time, but the other had labored every day and would occasionally come to the house to wait on the one ill. But last Tuesday he was later than usual in coming to his brother's home. When he arrived, however, he administered to his brother,
when he departed with a jug of water and some strychnine, which he afterwards swallowed, and was found dead
in the field the following day.

No cause could be learned for the man's act, and his sick brother was unaware of his death for many hours.

Kind neighbors have taken charge of the sick man and are doing what they can for his relief. They assisted in the burial of his brother.

Further than that their names were

WILLARD MEMORIAL SERVICE.

Interesting Program Was Arranged by Local W. C. T. U.

(By Mrs. Elizabeth Smith.)

The Mother's Meeting held at the lovely home of Mrs. C. H. Coles Monday afternoon took the form of a Willard memorial service, and about fifty ladies were present to honor the memory of this noble woman who did such a wonderful work in this world while she was with us. The program was in charge of Mrs. J. D.
Turner and was very interesting, as it dealt with incidents in Miss Willard's useful and happy life.

Program.

Hymn—"Rock of Ages."
Scripture, 91 Ps.—Reading and prayer, Mrs. Liddell.

Reading—Heredity, Mrs. Taylor.

This article was taken from Miss Willard's book entitled "Fifty Years of Life," and tells what a blessed heritage it is to be well born and also to be a welcome child. Her mother once said to her: "Frank, shove all else, thank heaven you were a welcome child," and it surely showed all through her beautiful life.

"Her Mother's Experience in the Training of Children." Mrs. Webster.
"First of all," she says, "teach your children to be truthful. Don't regard your child as a mere animal, to be fed and clothed. It needs sympathy very early. It smiles back your love when only a few weeks old. The habits of usefulness and kindness cannot be too early impressed. Try to cultivate a tender conscience, a delicate sensitiveness toward right and wrong." These are only a few of the good things she tells, but it shows what a help that grand old mother
must have been all her life.

Poem, entitled "Frances E. Willard," Mrs. Rogers.

Rule of Health—Mrs. Patterson.

The Willards didn't believe in taking much medicine, but rather in caring for themselves so they would not need it. The following are some of their "Golden Rules of Health":

Simple food, mostly of vegetables,
fish and fowls.

Plenty of sleep, with early hours for retiring.

Feet kept warm, head cool, and nothing worn tight. Just as much fresh air as possible, only let fresh air and sunshine go together.

No tea or coffee for children, no alcoholic drink for anybody.

Tell the truth, and mind your parents.

A tribute to Frances Willard—Mrs.
Akeley.

A biographical sketch of her life—
Mrs. Turner.

Music—"All Round the World, the White Is Twined."

Prayer—Mrs. Gross.

BRIEF NOTES.

(By Mrs. Elizabeth Smith.)

Mrs. L. E. Bailey of New York City,
one of the National W. C. T. U. lecturers, spent a few hours in the city yesterday, the guest of our president, Mrs. L. L. Sandborn. She is working in towns where they need stirring up,
but our fair city is considered capable of standing alone, and everywhere I hear the remark from outside: "Gainesville is a moral town."
I pray it may be worthy the name, but we can improve still. We have great reason to feel proud of Gainesville, our lovely inland city.

Several Northern tourists stopping in Gainesville took in the Tampa Fair
last week, and all were delighted.
It was really a great revelation to them of what this wonderful State of Florida can do. The exhibits are fine, and Alachua county is well to the front. Some of the counties have gone to a great deal of work in making their exhibits attractive. Hillsborough has a map about twenty-five feet square of the county. The water is made of the Spanish moss and the land of oranges. Some of the southern counties had wonderful exhibits of citrus fruits and vegetables. The woman's building is fine, also poultry exhibit and stock. One could spend several days very profitably in the main building. At the booth where tea and coffee were demonstrated one had a treat, and everyone was so kind and made one feel it was a great pleasure to serve you. The people of Florida
may well be proud of their State Fair and the ten days' limit gives one an opportunity to see the city of Tampa, which is so rapidly improving,
also to take in the trip to Passa Grille,
down the lovely Manatee to Bradentown, and across the lovely Tampa bay to St. Petersburg, and take the beautiful street-car ride through orange groves that even now are well laden with fruit.

His Dinner Guests.

In a volume published in London,
"Piccadilly to Pall Mall," there is this queer anecdote of the vagaries of social life in the capital: Some years ago
an eminent personage accepted or suggested a dinner with a certain millionaire, at that time comparatively unknown. The first guest to arrive, having explained to the butler that, being unacquainted with his host, he would wait till some one else came who could introduce him, lingered in the hall.
The second was in the same predicament, as were the third, fourth, fifth and other guests up to the ninth, who chanced to be "the eminent personage" himself. Upon the dilemma being explained to him he cheerfully said: "Oh, come along with me! I will introduce you all. I know him."

Clown Dogs in Demand.

There are dogs and dogs, but not all dogs are fitted for clown work in the circus or a dog and pony show. Clown dogs are a source of great amusement with the children, and when a pup is found which has a keen sense of the ridiculous he is the one for the sawdust ring. Sometimes pups of no particular breed are found which fill the bill for harlequin roles, and the circus man is glad to get them. When a humorous dog is small and agile he is in great demand.—Chicago News.

Worn Out.

That's the way you feel about the lungs when you have a hacking cough.
It's foolishness to let it go on and trust to luck to get over it, when Ballard's Horehound Syrup will stop the cough and heal the lungs. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by W.
M. Johnson.

Their Good Time.

Little Elsie was very disobedient
and mother was cross and scolding.
Suddenly the little one looked up and said very sweetly, "Oh, mamma, ain't
we having a good time?"

"How?" asked the mother crossly.
"Oh, just a-fussing."—Delineator.

A Mechanical Age.

"What has become of the old fashioned mother who sat up to see at what hour her boys got in?"

"I presume she has been superseded by a time clock."—Kansas City Journal.

TELEPHONE TALKS

The Long Distance System

One of the most valuable features of our service, to our subscribers and to the public generally, is our connection with the extensive long distance lines of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and the other associated Bell Telephone companies.

We own thousands of miles of long distance lines in the seven States in which we operate and in addition can connect any telephone in our system with lines extending to any other city in which a Bell Telephone system is operated.

These long distance lines are of the most modern and improved construction and are maintained at a high state of efficiency. The Bell systems, operating in various sections of the country, are uniform in their equipment and in their methods of operating.

Only by reason of this close traffic arrangement between the Bell Telephone companies is it possible to go to a Bell Telephone almost anywhere, ask for "Long Distance" and be put in communication with almost any point in the country.

This vast network of wires, radiating throughout the nation, is used daily in commerce and for social purposes by the banker, the farmer and citizens in all walks of life and our plant here is an important link in this great chain.

A FIRE IN JAPAN.

The Victim Has Other Troubles Besides Loss of Goods.

An American missionary living in Japan recently lost his dwelling by fire. He described in an amusing way the polite condolences which his neighbors showered upon him. "We were deluged with visiting cards," he says. "They were forced into our hands by sympathetic inquirers, friends offering aid and tradespeople soliciting orders. The conversation with each comer was somewhat as follows: 'You have indeed had an honorable disaster,' says the friend. 'I have humbly caused a great disturbance,' I reply. 'Please honorably excuse me.' 'Indeed, it is honorably sad for you,' the friend answers. 'I have done an unheard of thing,' I say. 'I am overcome that you should have come to call on me on purpose. Thank you very much.' 'Please honorably excuse me for being so late in coming,' says the friend. The energy required for such a conversation can be imagined by accompanying each sentence with a low bow and repeating the process about fifty times.

"About 10 o'clock we two foreigners escaped to face our next duty, which consisted in apologizing to all the houses in our section—about fifty. It was nearly 12 o'clock at night when our apology tour was completed, but our last visitor called at 2 o'clock in the morning. Callers began coming again at 6 o'clock and kept on coming steadily. During the day we received many visitors and paid twenty-eight or more calls. The strain of all this, together with our other tasks, including the receiving of the stream of visitors, which lasted a whole week, is better imagined than described.

"All day after the fire and for three days more people from all over Gifu and from out-stations kept bringing sympathy from their families and presents of cakes and fruit and other articles. We can never repay all the kindness we received."—Chicago News.

THE ELBE RIVER.

How the Stream Was Brought to an Even Slope and Current.

In the beginning the Elbe, like any other river, wandered at its will, now spreading out among a multitude of islands, now narrowing into a short and crooked turn, now widening over a shoal. As a proper beginning for the correction of this sort of thing the Prussians, in true German style, prepared a map of the stream as it was, decided by a simple mathematical calculation how wide a channel 1.50 meters deep at middle water could be with the existing flow and then upon the map in red ink, eliminating all sharp turns, drew in graceful curves and long straight reaches regardless of the existing banks two nearly parallel lines, indicating the banks as they were intended to be.

The engineers began at the head of the stream and built out from the old shore to the location of the red line transverse dikes, ground sills—ordinary contraction works. Sometimes where they seemed to be needed they built long parallel dikes exactly on the new red line. Sometimes they wove hurdles and revetment mattresses of willow brush, much as we do at home, and sunk them on bars between the tips of the transverse dikes, and then on the top of them set up upright sticks and wove "wattle" or basket fences of willow through them to make pens, and into these piled sand dredged from the stream, to build up the shore. Mile by mile they advanced, dredging the river or letting it dredge itself, leaving no ends loose to ravel out, gradually reducing the river to an even slope and current.—Boston Transcript.

Foley's Honey and Tar clears the air passages, stops the irritation in the throat, soothes the inflamed membranes, and the most obstinate cough disappears. Sore and inflamed lungs are healed and strengthened, and the cold is expelled from the system. Refuse any but the genuine in the yellow package. J. W. McCollum & Co.

THE HUMAN RACE.

Will Man Simply Shrink Off the Face of the Earth?

A French statistician who has been studying the military and other records with a view of determining the height of men at different periods has reached some wonderful results.

He has not only solved some perplexing problems in regard to the past of the human race, but is also enabled to calculate its future and to determine the exact period when man will disappear from the earth.

The recorded facts extend over nearly three centuries.

It is found that in 1610 the average height of man in Europe was 1.75 meters, or, say, five feet nine inches. In 1790 it was five feet six inches. In 1820 it was five feet five inches and a fraction. At the present time it is five feet three and three-quarter inches. It is easy to deduce from these figures a rate of regular and gradual decline in human stature and then apply this, working backward and forward, to the past and to the future. By this calculation it is determined that the stature of the first men attained the surprising average of sixteen feet in height.

Truly, there were giants on the earth in those days. The race had already deteriorated in the days of Og, and Goliath was a quite degenerate offspring of the giants. Coming down to later time, we find that at the beginning of our era the average height of man was nine feet, and in the time of Charlemagne it was eight feet eight inches. But the most astonishing result of this scientific study comes from the application of the same inexorable law of diminution to the future. The calculation shows that by the year 4000 A. D. the stature of the average man will be reduced to fifteen inches. At that epoch there will be only hill-pations on the earth. And the conclusion of the learned statistician is irresistible that "the end of the world will certainly arrive, for the inhabitants will have become so small that they will finally disappear"—"finish by disappearing," as the French idiom expresses it—"from the terrestrial globe."—London Tit-Bits.

Hats as Aids to Matrimony.

"The wise woman is as careful about the choice of a husband as she is about the choice of a hat." The celebrated author who uttered this dictum may have exaggerated a little, but not much. And allow me, a woman, to tell you solemn men whom I see sneering at the "frivolity" of my sex that often the cleverest among you chooses a wife for no better reason than that the woman thus selected has herself chosen a becoming hat!—Mme. C. De Broutelles in Grand Magazine.

NASAL CATARRH

J. W. McCollum & Co. Sell the Great Remedy That Cured Mrs. Karberg.

Here is a very simple yet wholly sincere statement of a Michigan woman, who was cured by using Hyomei—the no cure no pay remedy for catarrh, asthma, hay fever, croup, cough and colds:

"A bad case of catarrh was cured for me by the use of Hyomei. The trouble affected my head, nose and eyes, and was very annoying and disagreeable, and the cure, from the use of Hyomei, was very gratifying. Hyomei has from me a strong recommendation and endorsement."—Mrs. E. Karberg, 213 Kingsley street, Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 16, 1908.

Thousands of just such letters are in existence, and thousands more would be but for the desire to avoid publicity. If you have catarrh, bestir yourself, and drive it out of your system. Kill the germs. You can do that easily if you use Hyomei (pronounced High-o-me.)

It is a dry, antiseptic and very pleasant air, that when inhaled quickly relieves all forms of catarrhal inflammation, stops snuffles, hawking and blowing. The price for a complete outfit, including inhaler, is only $1.00 at J. W. McCollum & Co's, corner E. Main and Union streets.

KEEP OUT THE STAG

A "deer take" in England's Oldest Deer Park.

WOUNDED UNTIL HE GASPS.

The Game Animal is Mercilessly Taken Hither and Yon, Through Lake and Wood, Until He Falls Exhausted, Though Undaunted.

Parts of certain great parks in England, such as Eridge park, the oldest deer park in the kingdom, are kept essentially wild in their original forest state, while near to the castle is the estate home park. Eridge park contains 3,000 acres and is the only estate in England, with one exception, where deer taking with hounds is still carried on. Eridge park once formed part of the royal chase. It still retains the wild beauty it then had, although there are more than seventy miles of level drives in it, not counting those of the home park.

Deer taking is entirely different from fox hunting. The object is to take the animals alive so that they may be transferred to the home park to be fattened and eventually turned into venison.

The sport is by no means as tame as it sounds. A seven to nine year old stag is an awkward customer to handle. He is powerful, agile and well armed with antlers and hoofs.

When there is to be a deer taking at Eridge park the meet is planned for 11 o'clock at the park keeper's house. The underkeepers, with fresh hounds, are sent through the park to head off the stag should he come their way.

The underkeepers having spread themselves over the park, the park keeper, with the "field" (those following mounted and on foot) set off to find a deer which looks ready for fattening purposes. Having selected one, it is the work of the keeper to get him separated from the rest and then to take the hound and set after him as fast as we can gallop. The pace, of course, is tremendous, and as rabbit holes abound the risk of a fall is even better, or, rather, a trifle of odds on the certainty of our "taking a toss." In our deer bounds away with his wonderfully easy, elastic movements he makes for the wildest part of the park, expecting to escape his pursuers.

In one place after another he is met with hidden keepers and fresh hounds. With the instinct of his species he knows what he thinks is his sanctuary—the lakes. With open mouth and tongue outstretched he plunges a good fifteen feet into the water and swims for the opposite bank. Gasping and tiring, he lands on what he takes to be freedom from his pursuers. But, alas, no! Yet another fresh hound is after him. What can he do? He is pumped with his already hard lungs to face the hill before him.

He turns around and tears down through the bracken with a hound on each side of him, ready to pull him down if they get but half a chance. It is a dingdong race, under trees, through bogs and bracken, up and down dells and breaks, smashing headlong through everything, anything, to reach the shelter of the friendly water once again. With a mighty splash he is in again. For a moment there is breathing space, for now the hounds and hounds, yet some way off, are making for the poor beast, which is in the middle of the lake. Away he swims with graceful movement of his limbs, glancing all around at his pursuers, but with his mind fixed on the line of retreat. He reaches the shore, and, with dripping sides, he is up upon the bank.

Again he makes an effort to baffle and leave behind those clinging hounds that would bear him down. And now

KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL

Health is Worth Saving, and Some Gainesville People Know How to Save It.

Many Gainesville people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Sick kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health, but there is no need to suffer nor to remain in danger when all diseases and aches and pains due to weak kidneys can be quickly and permanently cured by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. Here is a Gainesville citizen's recommendation:

Mrs. E. H. Walters, 108 N. Oak avenue, Gainesville, Fla., says: "My kidneys were disordered for some time and I could find nothing that would relieve me. I suffered greatly from headaches and was often so dizzy that I could not stand. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I procured a box and began their use. They acted quickly and it was not long before I received relief. I have no hesitation in giving Doan's Kidney Pills my endorsement."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

two great hounds are stretching themselves out to their utmost pace. Side by side they race after their tiring quarry; in another minute they will have him. The stag, however, manages to make a spurt, though he is now stiffening rapidly, and just reaches some park palings surrounding the big lake.

In an instant he has turned on his pursuers, and with head down and upraised fore leg he is prepared to fight to the death. A hound rushes in, but in a twinkling he is on his back, hurled away like a piece of wood. This checks the other hound, which dodges and bays around the stag. Seeing that things are now getting a bit too warm for him, the stag suddenly turns round and, smashing the palings like match wood, finds himself again in the icy water of the big lake. Away and away he swims, up this long stretch, the water seeming to revive him, for he swims the eastern length, three-quarters of a mile, and then lands at the far end while we follow on the shore. He swims till his feet touch the ground and stands facing us.

All we can do now is to end the situation as speedily as possible. A keeper deftly throws a rope with a loose knot over the stag's antlers. In a moment four burly keepers are hauling him out by the ropes. It is now a slow march to his feeding ground in the home park. Slowly the procession moves, never a slackening of the rope or the hold on the antlers. Through the gate dividing the parks he is brought, an unwilling prisoner, though undaunted. This ends the deer taking.—Town and Country.

Hexamethylenetetramine.

The above is the name of a German chemical, which is one of the many valuable ingredients of Foley's Kidney Remedy. Hexamethylenetetramine is recognized by the medical text books and authorities as a uric acid solvent and antiseptic for the urine. Take Foley's Kidney Remedy as soon as you notice any irregularities, and avoid a serious malady. J. W. McCollum & Co.

Reasons For Cannibalism.

According to a writer in a French review, there are three causes for cannibalism. It is due either to necessity, pleasure or fashion. Twenty per cent of the cannibals, we learn, eat their dead to honor them. The ancient Tibetans belonged to this class. This is sentimental anthropophagy. Nineteen per cent eat their great warriors to obtain their courage. This is designated egotistic anthropophagy. Twenty-nine per cent eat human flesh to punish their enemies and 32 per cent because it is the fashion or because they consider the flesh savory.—Indianapolis News.

Fat Singers—Why?

A medical gentleman, writing in Comœdia, explains that the physical massiveness of the majority of famous singers comes mainly from abnormal development of the lungs. We must confess that we had been under the impression that it was due to a laudable effort to make grand opera amusing.—Punch.

ABOUT ADVERTISING—NO. 2

The Dollar That Can't Be Spent

By Herbert Kaufman

Every dollar spent in advertising is not only a seed dollar which grows a profit for the merchant but is actually retained by him even after he has paid it to the publisher.

Advertising creates a good will worth the cost of the publicity.

It actually costs nothing. While it uses funds it does not use them up. It helps the founder of a business to grow rich and at the same time keeps his business from not dying when he does.

It eliminates the personal equation. It perpetuates confidence in the store and makes it possible for a merchant to withdraw from business without having the profits of the business withdrawn from him. It changes a name to an institution—an institution that will survive after the death of its builder.

It is really an insurance policy which costs nothing—pays a premium each year instead of calling for one, and renders it possible to change the entire personnel of a business without disturbing its prosperity.

Advertising renders the business stronger than the man—independent of his presence. It permanentizes systems of merchandising, the track of which is left for others to follow.

A business which is not advertised must rely upon the personality of its proprietor, and personality in business is a decreasing factor. The public does not want to know the man who owns the store—it isn't interested in him, but in his goods. When an unadvertised business is sold it is only worth as much as its stock of goods and fixtures. There is no good will to be paid for—it does not exist—it has not been created. The name over the door means nothing except to the limited stream of people from the immediate neighborhood, any of whom could tell you more about some store ten miles away which has regularly delivered its shop news to their breakfast tables.

It is as shortsighted for a man to build a business which dies with his death or ceases with his inaction as it is unfair for him not to provide for the continuance of its income to his family.

Are YOU Being "Hunted?"

One of today's want ads. may be hunting you—ransacking the city for you. It may have a message for you of urgent personal importance—one that, when you get it, and heed it, may change the immediate currents of your activities, of your interests—may even place around and about you new environments, new associates; may give you an entirely new start in a business way.

Isn't it worth while to try to find out whether this may not be true—today, tomorrow, or very soon?

WILL HAVE LARGE STOCK.

Mrs. F. T. McCormick Will Surpass All Former Millinery Openings.

Mrs. F. T. McCormick is now receiving the large stock of goods she purchased while away and placing the same in readiness for her grand opening, which will be announced at a later date.

While in the markets she was busily engaged with three expert workmen arranging the large line of pattern hats that she will have to offer at the opening, which will consist of the largest and swellest line ever shown in the city, being more than twice as expensive as any order ever placed by Mrs. McCormick.

She had the services of an expert French milliner who copied a large number of the imported styles, all of which she will have on exhibition at the opening. Another feature will be the tremendous stock purchased, and she will be able to supply the demands of a city much larger than Gainesville.

Painters are at work painting up the furniture and interior of the building, which will make a pleasing change in everything, preparatory to her grand opening.

Solid Carload Cattle.

J. G. Harrold, the enterprising south side meat man, has just purchased a carload of stall-fed beef cattle, which arrived yesterday from points in West Florida. The stock is among the prettiest seen here in some time, which shows that his buyer, A. L. Jackson, thoroughly understands his business when it comes to purchasing stock. This class of meat is proving about as expensive as the Western meats, but as the trade is better satisfied with the article that is butchered here, Mr. Harrold decided to purchase in this manner this season.

McQueen Chaires, a turpentine operator and phosphate dealer of Old Town, is among the business visitors to the city.
